

Animation Page 1

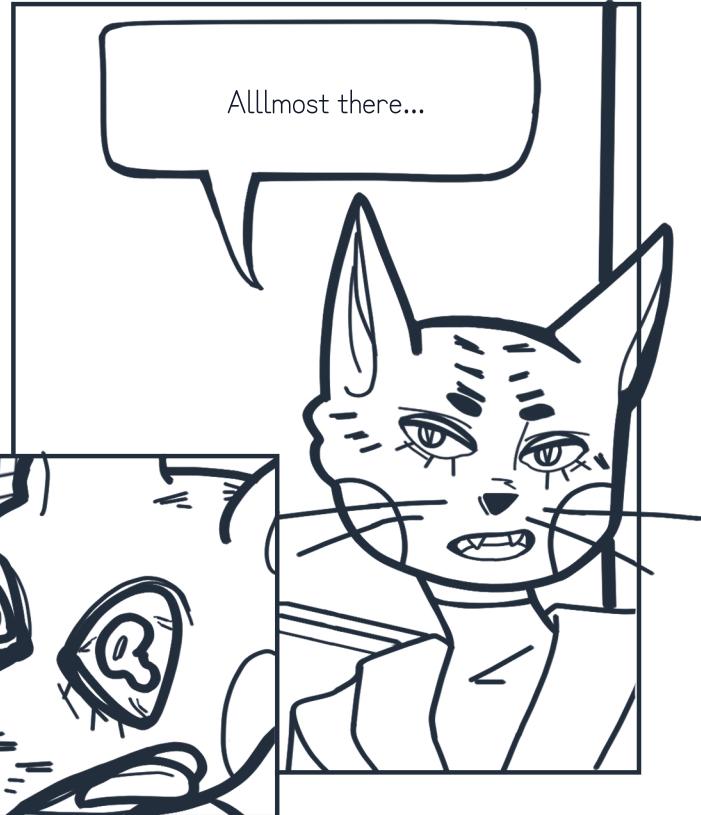

hover / scroll to play

This is the opening scene of the comic, running footsteps and city sounds audible in the background.

c'mon,
KEEP UP
I KNOW you wan-na get me!

Text appears as character is heard taunting the other character. Arrows and lines would show emphasis and help with the playful feel Characters jump in slow-mo as a cool action shot and to build the suspense of the scene.

Text jumps out of the page as the characters jump (Jump -> for -> me in order as the character speaks it)

Animation Page 2

Click to splat →

= "SPLAT" =

Animate the "splat" text to be like something splattering on the ground (bending and stretching). Blood splatters included to emphasize this.

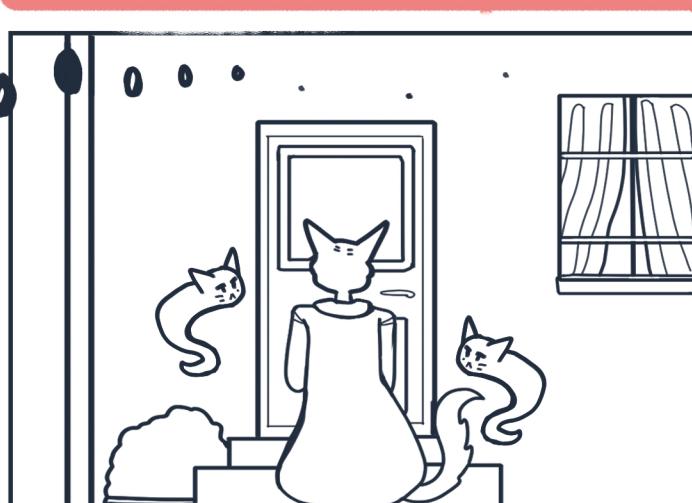

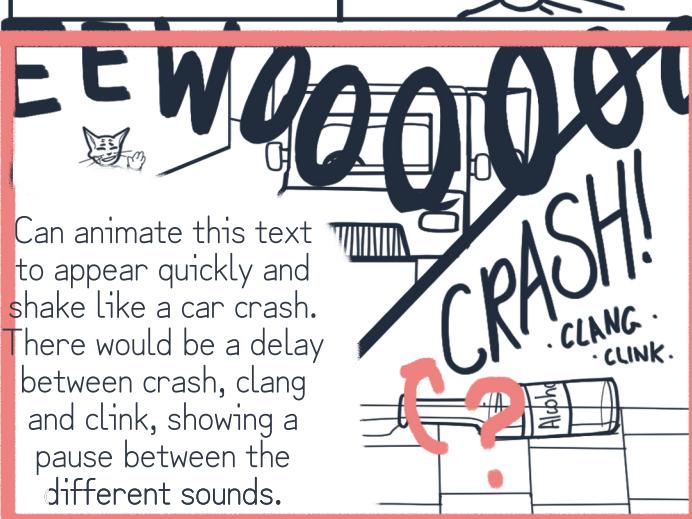

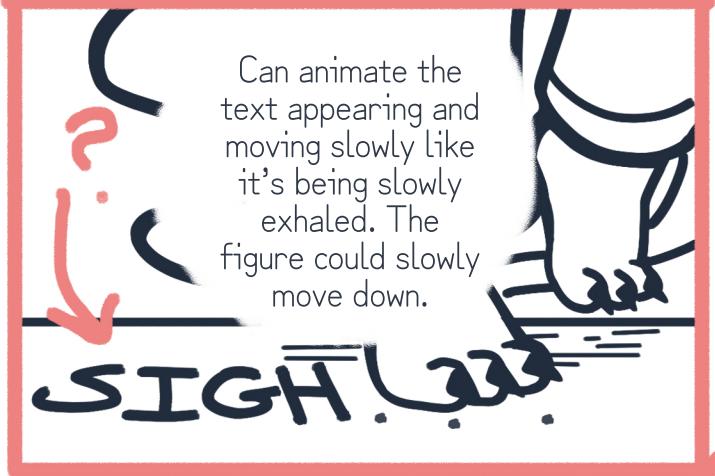

↗?
animate these coming down?
(whoosh)

Animate the siren text to hover up and down to mimic the siren wailing sound (add sound to this if possible)

hover to play

Animation Page 3 hover/scroll to play

KNOCK KNOCK

Animation Page 4

Click to knock

1. KNOCK
2. |
3.
4.

Could animate the speech bubbles popping out as well?

Hello?

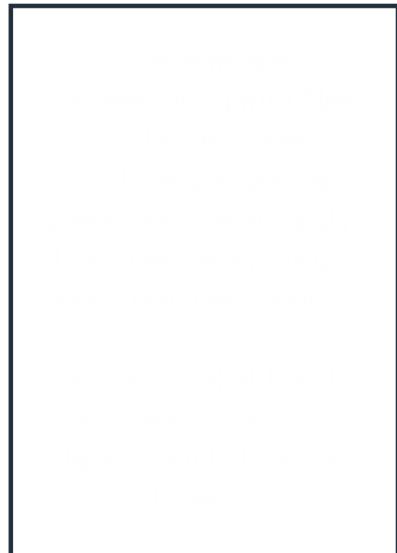

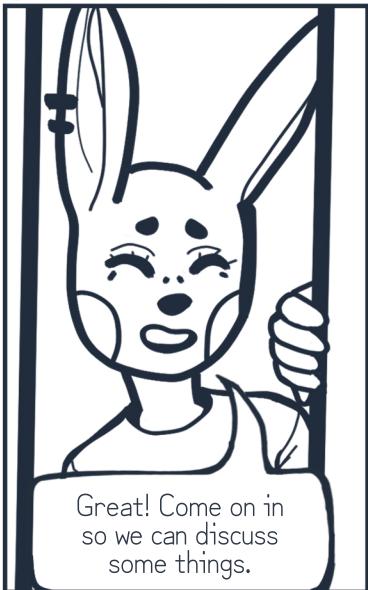

Oh! You must be here about the roommate ad I posted, right?

Animate the knocks jumping out of the page from the bottom right corner to the upper left (jumping out of the panel). These would be quick and sharp to replicate the sharp knock sound.

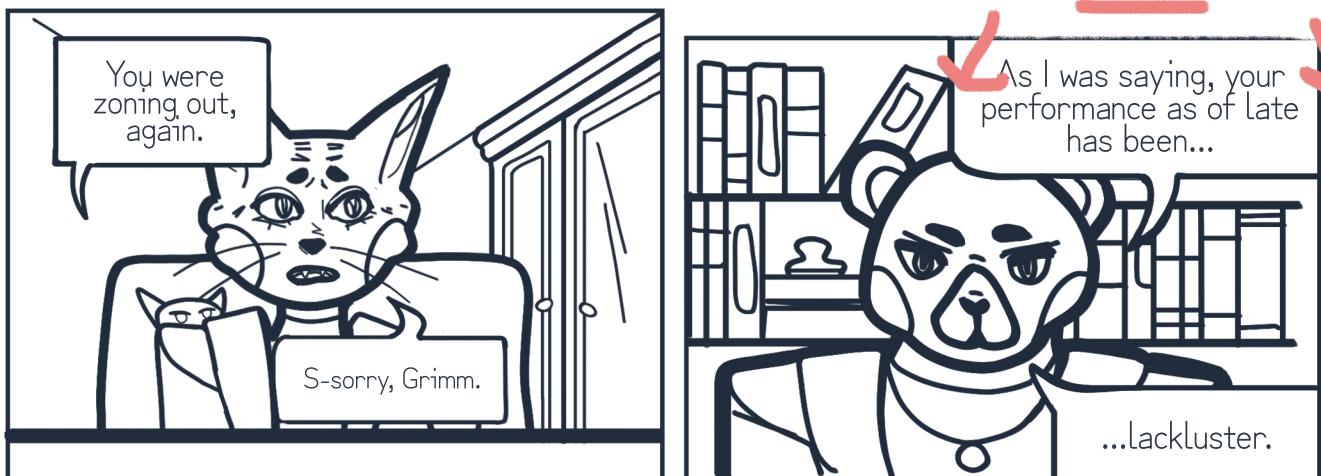

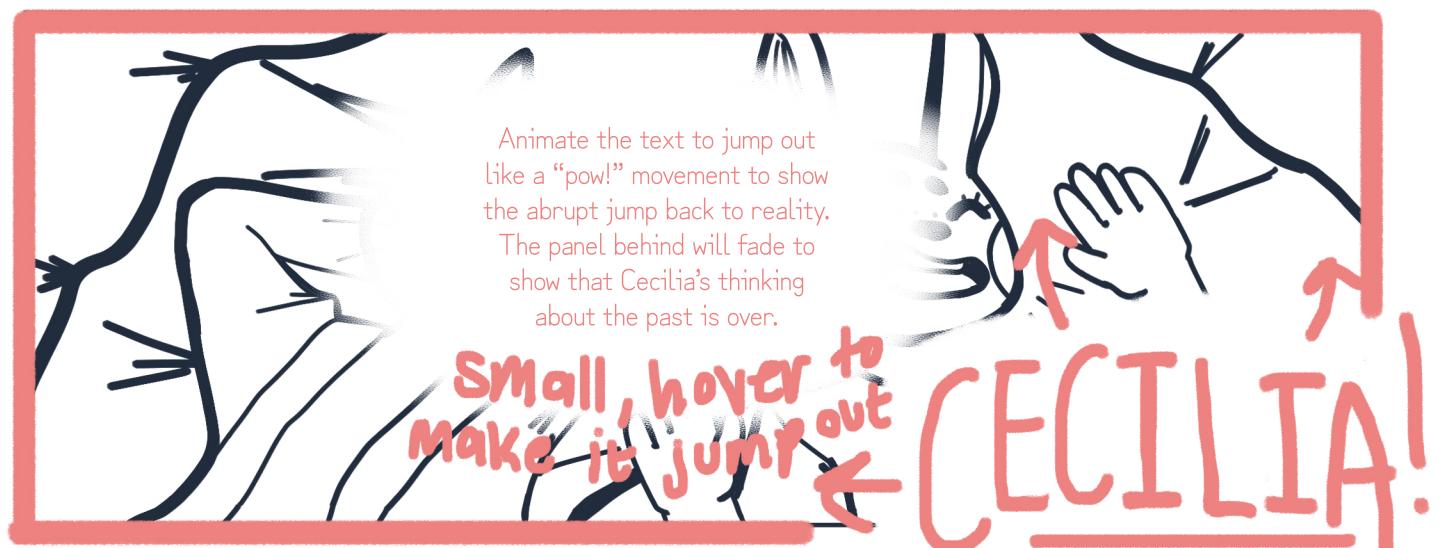

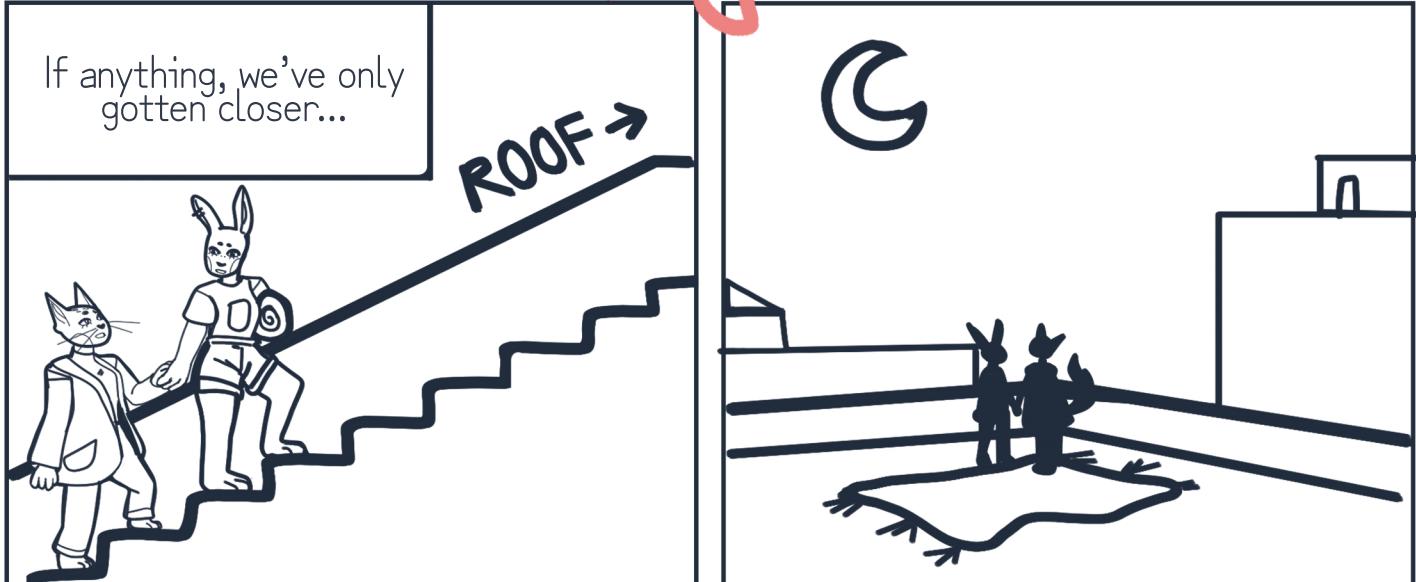

Why'd I stutter so much?

focus!

Oh, uh, yes. I'm here for... the uh... roommate application thing... yeah...

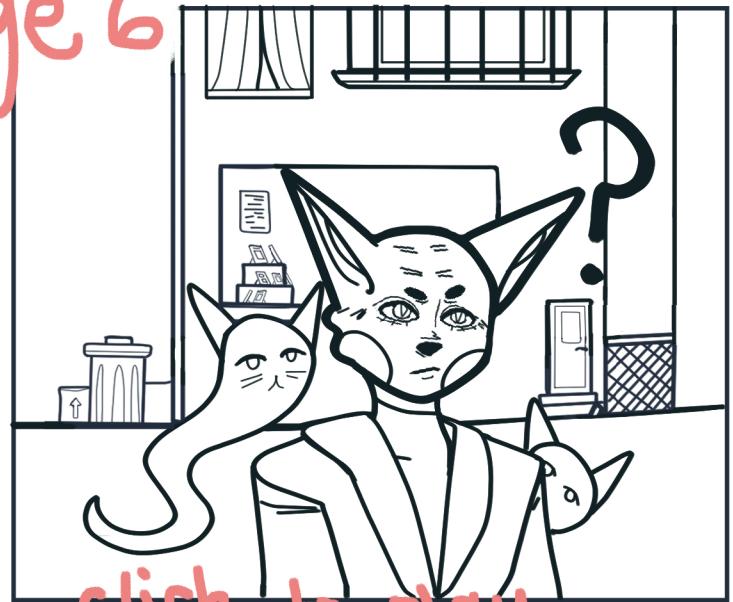

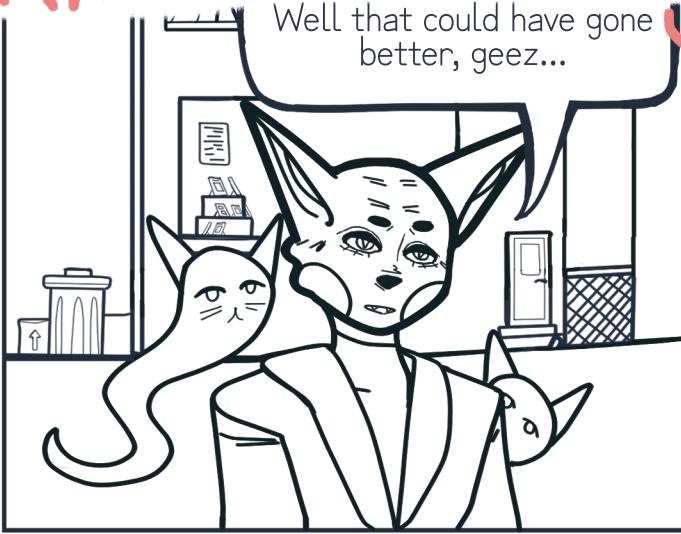

Animation Page 5

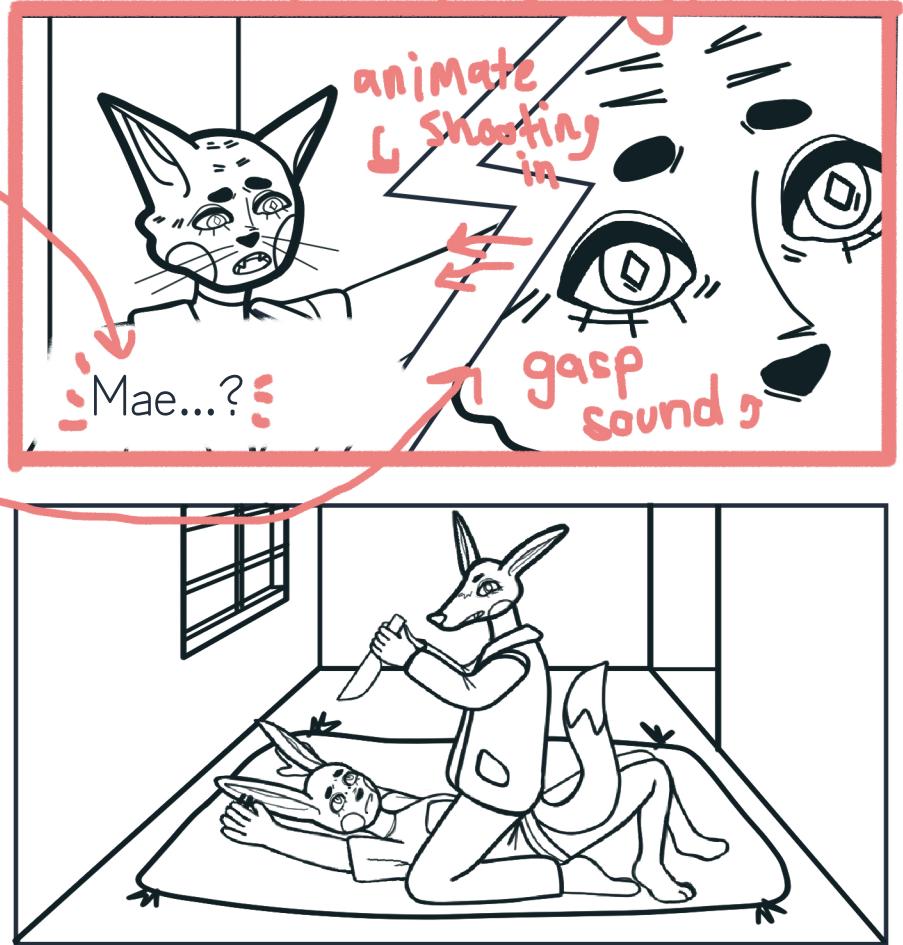

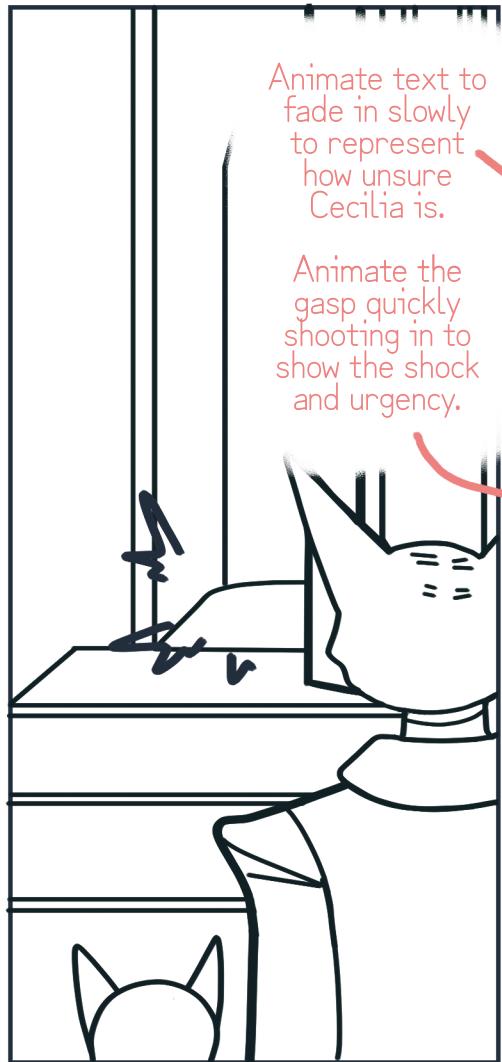

Animation Page 6

Well that could have gone better, geez...

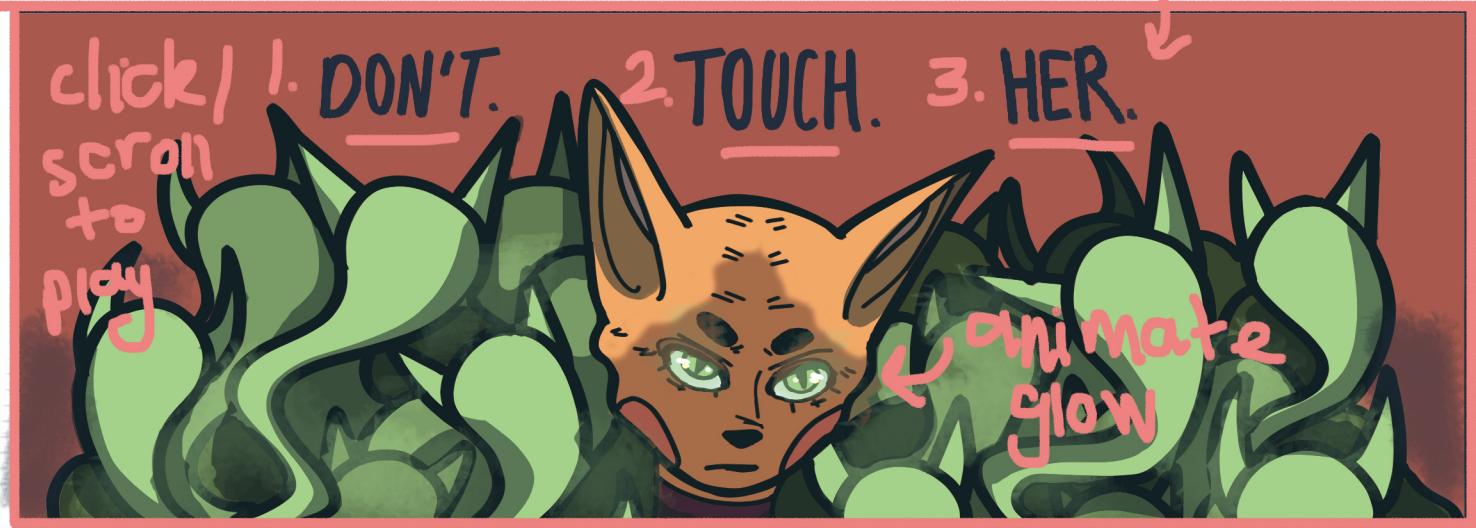

click to play

Animation Page 7

Animate text to appear as the character speaks it. The text will fall down into frame to represent the assertive/serious nature of the words.

Animate text to fly in fast with the knife sound. Lines added and animated for emphasis

SCHWICK

hover to play

Of course.

That's when I knew I would protect her for the rest of my life.