Project Summary:

I wanted to create an interactive, digital promo for my comic that is unique and gets users interested in the premise for my comic. I wanted there to be a mix of interactions, not just clicking through, but also pressing keys and using the scroll wheel. I also wanted it to be somewhat cinematic, like a title sequence for a show in which something happens that gives the viewer a taste of the action, and then it cuts to the title and the viewer is enticed into learning more.

I thought the most interesting start would be to get users to "zoom into" the story, and get a closer look at the main character (orange cat - Cecilia), so that is the first interaction with the promo. I wanted users to get a background of/ feel for the story, thus this promo takes place before/as an aside to the main story. I also wanted users to get a feel for the main character's personality, so she guides the user for the majority of the promo, making comments that bring through her personality. Each scene follows along from one another to create the cinematic feel I was going for.

DECLARATION OF ORIGINALITY
UNIVERSITY OF PRETORIA

The Department of ..... Visual Arts ..... places great emphasis upon integrity and ethical conduct in the preparation of all written work submitted for academic evaluation.

While academic staff teach you about referencing techniques and how to avoid plagiarism, you too have a responsibility in this regard. If you are at any stage uncertain as to what is required, you should speak to your lecturer before any written work is submitted.

You are guilty of plagiarism if you copy something from another author's work (eg a book, an article or a website) without acknowledging the source and pass it off as your own. In effect you are stealing something that belongs to someone else. This is not only the case when you copy work word-for-word (verbatim), but also when you submit someone else's work in a slightly altered form (paraphrase) or use a line of argument without acknowledging it. You are not allowed to use work previously produced by another student. You are also not allowed to let anybody copy your work with the intention of passing it off as his/her work.

Students who commit plagiarism will not be given any credit for plagiarised work. The matter may also be referred to the Disciplinary Committee (Students) for a ruling. Plagiarism is regarded as a serious contravention of the University's rules and can lead to expulsion from the University.

The declaration which follows must accompany all written work submitted while you are a student of the Department of ..... Visual Arts ..... No written work will be accepted unless the declaration has been completed and attached.

Full names of student: ..... Tayla Orsmond .....

Student number: ..... u21467456 .....

Topic of work: ..... VIO 202 Theme 1 Final Deliverable .....

Declaration

1. I understand what plagiarism is and am aware of the University's policy in this regard.
2. I declare that this Theme 1 Final Deliverable (eg essay, report, project, assignment, dissertation, thesis, etc) is my own original work. Where other people's work has been used (either from a printed source, Internet or any other source), this has been properly acknowledged and referenced in accordance with departmental requirements.
3. I have not used work previously produced by another student or any other person to hand in as my own.
4. I have not allowed, and will not allow, anyone to copy my work with the intention of passing it off as his or her own work.
